

Thursday 27/10/2022

10.30-11.00 Welcome address

Gianni Rosas (ILO's representative for Italy and San Marino)

Salvatore Capasso (Director Ismed-CNR)

11.00-12.30 Out of the European Industrial Core (the Interwar Years)

discussant: Francesca Piana (Scuola Normale Superiore)

Judith Rainhorn (Université Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne): Acting behind the scene: Alice Hamilton, a female expert in the early ILO network

Dan-Alexandru Săvoaia (University of Iași): Crafting social justice in the margins: aspects of Romania's interaction with the ILO in the interwar period

Stephanie van Dam (Cambridge University): Social networks in the formulation and implementation of injury compensation in the International Labour Organization and the British empire, 1930-1945

14.00-14.30 Keynote lecture

Lorenzo Mechi (Università di Padova)

14.30-16.00 Socialist and Catholic Networks

discussant: Giacomo Canepa (Scuola Normale Superiore)

Adeline Blaszkievicz (Université Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne): A convergence of struggles for social justice? Socialist networks and the ILO during the interwar period

Oscar Gaspari (LUMSA, Roma): L'Italia fascista contro i numeri indici per il calcolo del costo della vita, nel congresso di Roma dell'Istituto Internazionale di Statistica del 1925

Aurélien Zaragori (Université Lyon III): For God and social justice: Christian international officers in the International Labour Organization (1920s-1970s)

Friday 28/10/2022

9.00-11.00 Special session Inail Bric 2019 Italian physicians and scientists

chair: Michele Riva (Università Milano Bicocca)
discussants: Franco Carnevale and Alberto Baldasseroni

Anna Pellegrino (Università di Bologna): La "nebulosa riformatrice" in Italia agli inizi del XX secolo e la medicina del lavoro

Roberto Mazzagatti (Università di Milano Bicocca): Luigi Carozzi e l'Industrial Health Service (ILO). Nella rete di tutela della salute dei lavoratori tra 1919 e 1939

Stefano Gallo (Ismed-CNR): Luigi Parmeggiani e i network della Sezione Prevenzione e Igiene nel secondo dopoguerra

Cristina Accornero (Università di Torino): L'ILO a Torino: formazione, sicurezza e igiene del lavoro nella seconda metà del Novecento

11.30-12.30 The ILO and the African Continent
discussant: Stefano Bellucci (University of Leiden)

Paul Mayens (Université Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne): Africans in a global epistemic network, the African conferences on social security: 1962-1975

Félicité Paho Nya (Université Yaoundé I): The role of the International Labor Organization (ILO) in the evolution of trade unionism in Cameroon: 1944-1972.

14.00-14.30 Keynote lecture
Daniel Maul (University of Oslo)

14.30-16.00 Boundaries of labour: forced labour, managers, and self-management discussant: Amalia Ribí Forclaz (Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies)

Mara Marginean (Romanian Academy): Interconnecting the (semi)peripheries: the Center for the Improvement of Industrial Managers (CEPECA) and Romania's cooperation with the global south in the 1970s

Gabriela Scodeller (University of Cuyo): Experts, networks and meetings regarding self-management: the role of the ILO in the long sixties

Norberto O. Ferreras (Universidade Federal Fluminense): Brazil and the ILO. Concurring and conflicting interpretations of forced labor

Scientific commission:

Virginia Amorosi (Università Federico II Napoli), Eloisa Betti (Università di Bologna), Giacomo Canepa (Scuola Normale Superiore), Federico Del Giudice (Scuola Normale Superiore), Stefano Gallo (Cnr-Ismed Napoli), Isabelle Lespinet-Moret (Université Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne), Sandrine Kott (Université de Genève), Francesco Maccelli (Università di Firenze), Daniel R. Maul (University of Oslo), Roberto Mazzagatti (Università Milano Bicocca), Lorenzo Mechi (Università di Padova), Francesca Piana (Scuola Normale Superiore), Bruno Settis (Scuola Normale Superiore), Valerio Torreggiani (ICS-Universidade de Lisboa)

Networks of Labour

International officers and social networks in the history of the International Labour Organization

Rome

27-28 October 2022

ILO Office for Italy - Via Panisperna, 28

Organized by:
"ILO History" SISLAV
working group
www.storialavoro.it

This conference is part of the project
Inail Bric 2019 - ID21
"Medici e scienziati italiani nell'OIL"

Supported and hosted by:
ILO Office for Italy and San Marino

The conference languages are English and Italian